Pioneer Beeson Writes of the Bear Flag Party

Henry Beeson, an aged survivor of the famous "Bear Flag Party" at Sonoma, has written a short, but intensely interesting sketch of the events of that occasion with a few details of the incidents leading up to the "raising," for the Cloverdale Reveille, which is well worth preserving. Mr. Beeson says:

"I wish to correct some erroneous impressions that have been made by some journals and other publications regarding the raising of the "Bear Flag," in old Sonoma, on June 14, 1846, the month and day being the anniversary of the adoption of the American flag by the Continental Congress in 1777. Standard historians have not agreed as to the exact date of that occurance, one placing it as June 12, and another June 15, but I can clearly recollect the day as being Sunday, June 14. The last publications referred to were of the last celebration of Admission Day September 9, at Santa Rosa. It has been long and universally known that I happened to be one of that once famous party of thirty-three who raised the 'Bear Flag,' and I am now the sole survivor.

"The latter incident was omitted in the celebration proceedings of those referred to. We selected Ezekial Merritt, one of the oldest of the party, as our captain, and our acquaintance with each other, one and all, became lasting. I have attended many celebrations of Admission Day in Sonoma, and several of them in company with two of my life long friends, the late Ben Duell and Harvey Porterfield, then survivors of the flag-raising, but now long since dead. The last I attended was in 1908, when I raised the fascimile of the flag we first flung to the breeze on June 14, 1846, the original having been destroyed by the earthquake and fire of 1906. I have preserved as a valued souvenir a likeness of the last three survivors of the party together with a list of names of the entire thirty-three.

"Another esteemed and old time friend, Jas. McChristian, was one of Fremont's famous battalion that entered the town of Sonoma next day to that of raising the flag. Mr. McChristian and I had been in close touch with each other during a trip of six months, having in 1845 crossed the plains together in the train of about 100 wagons from Indian Nation to what is now Sacramento, when it fell to my lot to drive an ox team all the way, about 3000 miles, and to travel that distance afoot.

"Next year at the close of the Mexican war--in 1848—our family circled, consisting of the Anderson and Beeson families, emgrated to Lake county, where we remained until a threatening uprising of the local Indians there, and the death of Andy Kelsey at their hands, when we took our hurried departure and journeyed by slow stages via Cloverdale, until we reached the site of Boonville, in good old Anderson Valley, on May 2, 1852. I am now at the age of 82, making my home with my daughter, Mrs. Oranbaun, of Oranbaun Valley, Mendocino County.

Seek to Repeal Woman Suffrage

Opponents of Woman Suffrage have opened headquarters in San Francisco and begun a systematic campaign to secure a vote in 1912 for the repeal of the suffrage amendment to the Constitution. While many wise politicians believe this is premature, the women who are at the head of the movement are in earnest, and propose to canvas the entire state to get the repeal placed on the ballot.

The railroad between Willits and Fort Bragg, which has been quietly under construction for the past several years, is now practically completed. Last week the two crews engaged in building the 800-foot tunnel met, and the last rails and ties are being laid between that point and Willits. It is confidently expected that trains will be running between Willits and Fort Bragg before the 1st of December.

Cazette Pleads Guilty to Burglary

D. H. Cazette, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ryan at Sonoma for the burglary of the Lawrence Villa and other places in this valley, was before Judge Seawell Friday for arraignment and he entered a plea of guilty. He said he did desire the services of a lawyer, for as he had confessed his guilt already he did not think a trial would avail him much He furnished the District Attorney with the names and addresses of some friends in the bay cities who would speak a good word for him. Judge Seawell advised him if he had any well-known people who would interest themselves in his behalf to get them to do so.

Deputy District Attorney Jack Ford, who conducted the preliminary examination of the man at Sonoma on Wednesday, filed the information against him in court upon which Cazette was arrainged. It is not thought that Cazette is a criminal in the full meaning of the term. He says that during the two and a half years he has been in the country he has been a hard working man. He has no relatives in this country.—Press-Democrat.

Monday Judge Seawell sentenced Cazette to imprisonment in the Folsom prison for eight years,

Suffrage Majority is 3587

According to the official returns from the constitutional amendment election, just compiled by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, woman's suffrage won by the small but safe margin of 3586 votes, the narrowest escape any of the winning amendments had from being beaten. As a matter of fact, out of 23 proposed amendments, all were ratified by the citizens of the state with the exception of the one allowing certain State officials to accept railroad passes, a measure which was defeated by 6132 votes.

The hurry to announce the results of the election was due to the raising of a question in Los Angeles concerning the right of women to vote at the final municipal election unless they were officially given the announcement from the Secretary of State's office thirty days in advance of that election.

While women's suffrage received the smallest majority, it received next to the largest vote, having polled a total of 246,487. The total vote in the state on the amendment election was about 250,000 which was far short of the 358,745 votes cast in the gubernatorical election.

Call For Legislature November 27

While it has not yet been determined whether provision will be made for a Presidential primary or not in the call for a special session of the Legislature, the call will provide for dealing with the primary law in a manner broad enough so that if it is desired to take action it can be done.

Such was the statement of Governor Johnson at the conclusion of the conference with 60 or more legislators Monday, who have been in conference at Sacramento for two days in regard to legislation to come before the special session, which it has now been decided to call for Monday, November 27, instead of Wednesday, December 6.

The sentiment of the legislators is almost unanimous in favor of providing for Presidential primaries in order that the newly-made electors, the ladies, may have an opportunity of expressing themselves relative to choice for president in 1912, instead of having to wait six years. It is hoped to complete the work of the session in four weeks, so that the legislators may eat Christmas dinner at home.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10 1911

After a conference with members o the legislature extending over two days, the Governor has decided to call the lawmakers into extra session on November 27. The subjects to which the committees have been assigned are as follows: Weights and Measures, Woman Suffrage, Initiative and Referendum, Division of Legislature, Railroad Commission, Revenue and Taxation, Sailors and Soldiers Exemption, State Printing Office Investigation, Irrigation Bonds, Primary Laws, School Lands Ajustment, Industrial Accident Laws, Building and Loan Laws, Reapportionment.

Text Books Cost Less

The present state administration has accomplished nothing of more wide-spread benefit to the people as a whole than the reduction of the price of school text books. Until free text books become a fact in California the cost of school books must continue a burdensome charge upon every father and mother of limited means. To make this charge as light as possible it is the law of the state that school books shall be furnished the children at cost, but under the manipulation of political grafters the statuate has served only to fatten the pockets of machine favorites at the expense of those least able to bear the burden.

One of the first announcements made by Governor Johnson after his election, and even before the board of control had been created, was that a substantial reduction should be made in the cost of school books. The first fruit of his labors in this regard was gathered when the State Text Book Commission announced that the price of the new physiology just produced by the State Printing Office would be but thirty cents. This is a reduction of one-third over the price that would have been charged if the methods of State Printer Shannon had been allowed to continue.

Shannon figured the cost of the book, exclusive of royalty and post age, at 24.6 cents. The Board of control placed a cost finding expert in the State Printing Office, who reported 16.5 cents as the outside limit of the cost of production, and this with ten per cent added for possible undefined cost in view of the fact that he had but a limited time in which to carry on his investigation.

A reduction of one-third in the price of school books means a saving to California homes.

To Arrange For Exhibit

Robert Newton Lynch, Thomas Maclay, H. M. LeBaron and Secretary Edward H. Brown, of the Chamber of Commerce, of Santa Rosa, addressed the Board of Supervisors on Tuesday regarding the matter of the proposed exhibit of Sonoma county in the Panama-Pacific exposition of 1915.

It was the concensus of opinion from the remarks of the orators that something should be done at once to have some energetic person take charge of the proposed exhibit for the county, and have it in shape for the exhibition when the time came. It was pointed out that it would require some time to arrange the exhibit and get it in readiness, and it was deemed advisable to have some proper person take charge at once and work it out to a proper solution

The supervisors were informed that a meeting of representatives of all the counties in the state had been called to assemble in Los Angeles in January, at which plans would be mapped out for the purpose of the combined exhibit which it is proposed to make. The supervisors were advised to name some one to represent them at this meeting, at which it will be determined how the coin appropriated will be spent to secure the best results.

"His Model Wife"

Under the auspices of St. Barbara's Guild of Triniti Church "His Model Wife" was presented to the public in Union Hall on last Friday evening.

The play was staged under the able management of J. K. Bigelow, and, although very short, was appreciated by those present.

Those who took part acted well, but were handicapped from the very beginning by not having a play of sufficient length and detail to warm up their part, and just as the audience and company were thoroughly interested a hurried climax brought the play to a sudden close.

We would like very much to see this same talent put on a better and longer play in the near future.

The attendance was large and the receipts for the evening were very gratifying, the tastily decorated booths adding their quoto to the funds and the evening's enjoyment.

National Leaders Seek Ruef's Parole

Brand Whitlock, four times elected mayor of Toledo, Ohio, and Franklin K. Lane, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in telegrams to Fremont Older, managing editor of the Bulletin, authorized him to sign their names to a petition for the parole of Abe Ruef, claiming that more good will come by his parole than by his further imprisonment.

Shannon Will Resign

It is reported that Shannon will resign his position as State Printer.

This report became current after Shannon had an interview with Governor Johnson. The proposed investigation by the state legislature of his purchase of large quantities of paper from the Zellerback Paper Co. of San Francisco, will be the cause of the resignation.

Friend W. Richardson, of Berkeley, who was Shannon's opponent at the last election, is spoken as his successor. George R. Radcliffe, of the Watsonville-Pajorvian Supt. of the State House Grounds, is mentioned for the place.

Shannon refused to discuss the report and states that he will not resign.

Peking, Nov. 9, (8:45 p m.)—The excitement is growing tonight The residents of the Forbidden City are taking in great quantities of rice and other stores Fifteen hundred infantry and cavalry of Manchu first division who fled from Shi Kai Chuang after the assassination of General Wu Lu Cheng arrived here today and entered the city.

Chang Sha, Nov. 9—A condition bordering on anarchy exists here owing to the desperate rivalry of the revolutionary leaders, who took possession of the city a few days ago. The two most prominent republican chieftains, General Chiao and General Tseng, were murdered by soldiers today.

In an effort to control the situation, Lan Tsuan, the republican governor, has been proclaimed dictator. But he is a scholar and not a leader and is reported as anxious to escape the responsibility.

Commits Suicide in San Francisco

The San Francisco papers of Thursday stated that Englehart Kuner of Vineburg, committed suicide in that city on Wednesday. His rash act was due to domestic unhappiness. It was stated that he had come to San Francisco to have a reconciliation with his wife. He shot himself.

The discovery of the man's deed was made by his twelve year old son, when the latter entered his father's room at the Hotel Albert in San Francisco. Kuner had been despondent for some time.

The Southern Pacific passenger train schedule, continued in a demoralized condition Wednesday, after the cavein of the roadbed over the Suisun sink Sunday afternoon. For several days it will be necessary to detour all local and overland trains via Stockton. A crew of several hundred men are working day and night repairing a strip of damaged track nearly one mile long south of the town of Suisun. The tracks were originally laid on "made" ground over the marshes and thousands of tons of rock and gravel were used as ballast. The constant washing of the tides has udermined the roadbed and rendered traffic unsafe.

Rainbow at Night

Between the hours of 7:30 p. m. and 10 p. m. Wednesday evening the residents of this valley beheld for the first time in their lives a rainbow at night.

There was a light mist falling and as a full moon rose over the Napa hills its rays reflected in a beautiful rainbow, which extended apparently from the Spreckles ranch to the bay shore.

The rainbow was perfect minus the colors, and remained in the sky for two and one-half hours.

Northern California Cadet Notes

The Cadet Basket ball team has just received a set of new uppers, they are red with a white stripe leading down from the shoulder.

Our basket ball manager, Arthur Fisk, states that our next game will be played away from home, as the people of Sonoma do not turn out as well as they should. Sebastopol High School has accepted a challenge, and the Cadet Juniors or first team will probably travel to Sebastopol next week.

Louis Brown, our former treasurer, left for San Francisco the latter part of last week to take a course of automobile engineering at Heald's.

At our meeting last week, a third basket ball team, called the Cadet Midgets, was organized, Axel Soderberg was elected manager, and Jake Pepper, captain. They are ready to accept challenges from any 14-year old team within a radius of fifty miles.

Tonight is a big night for the Cadets, as they play three games of basket ball. One in Sonoma between the Cadets Intermediates (second team), and the Ponies of Petaluma. The other two games will be played in Santa Rosa. One between the Cadet Midgets (third team) and the Fremont school of Santa Rosa, and the other game between the Cadet Juniors (first team) and Company E. National Guard of Santa Rosa. A challenge has also been accepted from the girl Cadets by the Napa High School girls, who will play later on.

Professor Bailey has been engaged to instruct the Cadet band. Last Monday night they played their first piece of music, a waltz. They will soon be playing before the public.

At our lsst meeting four new members were voted into the Cadets. They are: Robert Clampett, Robert LaTorres, Eric Bateman and Clayton Darling

Captain Roberts spent Tuesday in Petaluma and Santa Rosa and Wednesday in the Metropolis.

Do You Feel Chilly, Then Feverish and Ache all Over?

Feel Worn-out, Blue and Tired? Have You a Fresh Cold, With Frequent Hacking Cough? Sensation of Soreness in the Chest or Back?

Don't let your case run into bronchitis, or some other obstinate and dangerous malady. The very best medicine to take in such a case is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Made without alcohol or dangerous drugs, it contains that rare combination of native medicinal roots that will allay a cough (iron it out, as it were), restore the circulation, assist the appetite and digestion, and consequently restore tone to the entire system. That is the reason people look happy once more after taking it—they feel like living, because their liver is active, the blood in their arteries is full of that life-giving quality—rich, red blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves.

Nervousness and neuralgia are only the indication that the nerves are not fed on invigorating blood. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce is nature's own restorer. It tones up the organism and invigorates its functions, furnishing to the body one of its necessary constituent principles of which it is in need.

This preparation is of pleasant taste, agrees perfectly with rebellious and sensitive stomachs, and is extremely effective in restoring tone and vigor to the entire system. It cures troubles of the stomach and at the same time the blood-vessels are given such a toning up as to throw off a cold. One very good reason why it restores the health of run-down, pale and emaciated people is because it first throws out the poisons through the liver and kidneys. It then begins its reconstructive work in building up flesh and making good, rich, red blood.

"I have been a sufferer from indigestion for some thirty years, at times," writes Mr. S. W. Mullenax, of Circleville, W. Va., "and have used medicine from several of our best physicians, which gave me only a little temporary relief. They said I could never be cured. Last winter I was stricken with the worst spell that I ever had. I suffered with such severe pains in the pit of my stomach that I could neither work nor sleep, and my weight went down from one hundred and ninety-five pounds to one hundred and sixty pounds in about two months' time. I then concluded that I would try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the time the first bottle was gone, I felt some relief from my severe suffering so continued until I had used four bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am truly thankful for the great benefit which I have received from your medicine, and can cordially recommend it to others."

It Stands Alone not only in respect to its ingredients but also as the only medicine for stomach, liver and blood disorders, which absolutely CONTAINS PURELY VEGETABLE AND PERFECTLY HARMLESS INGREDIENTS, WITH NO ALCOHOL.

It Stands Alone as the best alterative medicine, the makers of which take their patients fully into their confidence and tell them exactly what they are taking. This Dr. Pierce can afford to do, because his "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY" is made of such ingredients and after a working formula that has thousands of cures to its credit, placing its merits above criticism.

It Stands Alone as Nature's cure for many chronic diseases and its ingredients are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root, and chemically pure glycerine.

Remember, these are the Pierce's Pleasant Pellets ORIGINAL Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago, and although much imitated, have never been equaled. Made of concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American plants and roots, therefore purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. One little Pellet for a stomachic, or stomach and bowel regulator, three tiny granules for a cathartic.

How He Killed His Antagonist

By EDWARD TOMLINSON

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

My friend Dr. Wobel, a German by birth, is one of the most quiet, modest little men I ever knew. He has a large practice with women and children—not that he knows any more about the diseases peculiar to them than other doctors, but he is so gentle in his manner that he cures them simply by sympathy. He has also a way of being very impressive. He tells them that the medicine he gives them must be taken at regular intervals on the stroke of the clock.

One day I met a man who had known Wobel in Germany. He told me the doctor had served as a surgeon in the Franco-Prussian war and had been considered by his companions a very brave man. He had fought a duel with a captain of artillery and killed him.

When Wobel came to my house again I told him what this person had said. He seemed very much embarrassed, coloring to the roots of his hair.

"Tell me about the duel," I said. "I wish to know how you killed the captain."

"I didn't kill anybody," he said. "It was all a mistake. I will confess to you if you will agree not to mention the matter to me again or to any one else. I am what you see me, a quiet man with a great deal of feeling. When the Franco-Prussian war broke out I had just been graduated from the medical college. My father, who had paid for my education, insisted on my going with the army as a surgeon. I felt that I would be out of place in war and would gladly have stayed at home, but by father was a stern man, and I dare not disobey him.

"We marched rapidly across the border. The corps that I was with saw very little fighting during the whole war, so I was not called upon to attend men on the battlefield. My comrades saw at once that I was of a timid disposition and soon began to rally me on my unfitness for war. From rallying me they came to taunting me, and from taunting me some of them finally insulted me. I was between two fires. In the German army, where dueling is prevalent, if I did not resent at least one of these insults I might better leave the service. If I challenged one of those who insulted me I had not sufficient bravery to stand up to be shot at.

"In either event it was a case of want of courage.

"One day this captain whom I have been supposed to have killed called me a coward before the whole mess, and the medical director, hearing of it, told me that I must either challenge him or resign. I could not bear to leave the service under such contemptuous circumstances, so, after struggling with myself for a whole night, I sent the captain a challenge. He accepted at once, and from that moment my comrades changed their treatment of me, restoring me to their friendship and associating with me on terms of equality.

"I knew this would not last, for I was sure that when I should meet my antagonist I would quail and that would throw me back to my previous condition. I was the most miserable man in the army. I counted the hours between the present and the time of the meeting—not that I wished them to pass, but that I dreaded the approach of what might deprive me of life.

"One thing gave me hope. Before the time appointed for the meeting arrived we began a desultory fighting with the French. Since I was not exposed, the ambulance corps bringing all the wounded to us at the rear, I rejoiced, thinking that if this continued there would be no opportunity for the duel. But one evening I was informed that the next morning at daylight the captain and I were to go just beyond the picket line and have it out. This was the most terrible thing that could have happened. I was not only liable to be shot by the captain, but by the enemy.

"There was no necessity to arouse me in the morning, for I did not sleep a wink all night. I crawled out of bed, put on my uniform and followed my second. I found the captain waiting to kill me. It had been arranged that we should fight with rifles at a hundred paces. We were placed in position, I trembling in every limb. After much dickering between the seconds all was ready and the word was given to fire.

"I was conscious of but one circumstance—that is, aiming at the top of a tree behind my enemy and some forty or fifty feet above his head. At the signal I pulled the trigger. All was a blur before me. The first thing I knew my second seized me by the arm and hurried me away.

"'Am I hurt?' I asked.

"'You hurt! Why, man, you shot your antagonist plumb through the heart.'

"'But,' I interrupted, 'I aimed at the top of a tree.'

"I didn't shoot my captain. Some sharpshooter of the enemy must have got a glimpse of him and saved me the sin. But it was believed I had shot him, and from that moment I was considered a brave man. The war soon closed, and I was never again in danger."

The doctor paused, then added:

"These tablets you will give your daughter every two hours, and if there is more fever"—

"Good night, doctor. Your instructions shall be obeyed."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by consitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BREVITIES

What is believed to be the world's record in transforming standing grain into bread was established recently by W. S. Gabel, a farmer living near Beloit, Kan. Just 30 minutes elapsed between the time when the wheat was cut and when Gabel took the first bite of a biscuit which had been made from it. As soon as the grain was threshed it was rushed to the mill and made into flour and then taken to a baker, who made the biscuits. The previous record is said to be an hour.

According to the census, Nevada has only seven tenths of a man to the square mile. Wonder where the other three tenths of the men live?

A townsite will be laid out on a 11,000 acre ranch at Willows, Glenn county. An alfalfa meal mill and creamery will be put up.

Origin of the Four Poster.

In medieval times, when life was very insecure, it was usual for people to sleep on a bed which was surrounded by sides of boards with strong posts at the four corners. These sides contained sliding doors, which could be fastened inside. When men retired to rest they took a weapon with them. If attacked in the night they were aroused by the noise made by the crashing in of their wooden defense and were able to defend themselves. When the law became strong enough to protect human life the sides of the bedstead were gradually dispensed with, but the four posts remained. The boxlike bedstead still survives in the rural parts of Scotland and is almost necessary where the earthern floors and imperfect ceilings cause much damp. Emily Bronte in "Wuthering Heights" describes one of these bedsteads in the old mansions as forming a "little closet." Mr. Lockwood, who had to sleep in it, says, "I slid back the panel sides, got in with my light, pulled them together again and felt secure."

He Lagged Superfluous.

Pittsfield, in the Berkshire hills, had in the old days, like many another New England town, a number of men and women who were called "characters." One of these was Bill Brown, a man unfortunately addicted to drink and frequently intoxicated for days at a time.

On one occasion he went into the shop of the local hatter, Mr. Smith, and asked for the best beaver in the store. Mr. Smith produced the desired article, saying as he took the money, "That beaver will last a man a lifetime."

Bill went proudly down the main street with his fine beaver on his head and immediately celebrated the event with a protracted debauch.

When he recovered he returned to the shop with a most disreputable hat. "Look here, I thought you said this here beaver would last me a lifetime."

"So it would," growled Mr. Smith, "if you had died when you ought to."—Youth's Companion.

They Began Early.
